

Women's Partnership Market, Public Benefit Corporation (B-Corp) (WPMarket)
Support Partners, Empower Women, Build Communities

Position: Events Intern

Duration: Summer and Fall 2015

Compensation: Unpaid

Location: Denver Metropolitan Area, Colorado

About Us:

Female economic empowerment is a catalyst for sustainable community development and reduced poverty. Founded on this belief, WPMarket accelerates female artisans and the grassroots organizations working with them in developing countries. We primarily do so by developing products, training artisans, and sourcing clients' unique, high-quality products to a global market and then investing a portion of the sales back into our partners to continue life-changing programming. As a result, 70% of all sales go to women worldwide.

About the Position:

WPMarket is an exciting new organization that's looking to grow quickly, and we've gotten the energy behind us to do so! This is your chance to get involved and help build our organization. We are looking for a part-time intern to support one of our Associates. This position is expected to work roughly 10 hours per week, largely running events in the Denver/Boulder area.

Events are largely on the weekends, and while he/she will not need to be available to work every event or weekend, he/she should be available at least two weekends per month. He/she will take direction from the Co-Founders and Managing Director but will largely need to manage him/herself.

Tasks include:

- Setting up, managing, and taking down WPMarket event booth.
- Interfacing with customers and telling the WPMarket story.
- Recording sales and managing money.
- Reporting on event activities, changes in inventory, etc.
- Identifying news events and assisting with application processes.
- Cultivating new relationships around town.
- Additional tasks as needed.

About You:

- Undergraduate or graduate student or recently graduated;
- Interested and ideally has a background in business and/or international development;
- Experience in sales and/or customer service;
- Enjoys talking to and working with people;
- Self-starter, takes initiative;
- Able to manage one's self;
- Able to lift at least 50 lbs;
- Have reliable access to a large enough car to transport materials and be able to man events around the Denver/Boulder area as needed;
- Have reliable access to your own smartphone with the savvy to post about our events on social media;
- Commitment to the mission and social enterprise model;
- Strong sense of integrity and honesty; and.
- Sense of humor.

For consideration, please send your CV and a brief paragraph of why you're interested in this position and what makes you qualified to info@wpmarket.org. Applicants are encouraged to apply quickly. Applicants will be accepted until the position is filled.
