

Position: Crowd Funding Campaign Internship

Date of Posting: January 2019

Location: Posner Center for International Development at 1031 33rd Street, Denver CO, 80205

Hours Per Week: 10-20

Start Date: 4-6 month position starting immediately

Description

Our Company: Space for Humanity (S4H) was founded to create a globally-minded world. is the first non-profit gateway to space, a philanthropic organization directly enabled by space technology. Our mission is to democratize access to space by providing all expenses paid trips - where anyone, from any walk of life, can apply for an opportunity to experience the Overview Effect: the cognitive shift in awareness that occurs when a human being looks down on the Earth from space. Upon their return, each citizen astronaut will share that experience through a social impact ambassadorship with their communities and beyond. Through this unique program, we believe that we can generate creative solutions to some of the world's most intractable problems.

Position Description: The CrowdFunding Campaign Intern will create a campaign to support the world's first completely citizen-funded astronaut. The Intern will work under the Executive Director for 10-20 hours a week for a period of 4-6 months. This is a volunteer position.

Your Mission

- Work directly with the Executive Director to create and carry out a crowdfunding campaign
- Conduct market research, learn best practices in crowdfunding campaigns
- Maintain online and written communication with prospective sponsors, individuals, and network
- Assist in the implementation/communication of ongoing fundraising efforts and community events
- Design, launch, and carry out campaign to fund first ever citizen-funded astronaut
- Work hand-in-hand with social media team to strategize for maximum traction
- Generate creative ideas and solutions to challenges faced by a global non-profit

What You Bring

Ideal candidates will be currently enrolled in, or will have completed, a bachelor's or graduate degree program with a preferred background or interest in nonprofit management, business, development, marketing, communication or other related field. Ideal candidate is passion about S4H's mission, curious and open to learning. Ideal candidate is ready to take on dynamic work, respectful, and works well in a team environment. Excellent verbal and written communication. Candidate is a self starter + creative.

To Apply

Send cover letter and resume to rachel@spaceforhumanity.org